

Dangers in Writing Inks.

It sometimes happens, says the London Lancet, that a trifling scratch or puncture made with a pen gives rise to a dangerous septicæmia, due to the liability of ink to contain pathogenic bacteria. Nigrosin ink, taken from a freshly-opened bottle, was found to contain both saphrophytes and bacteria. Red and blue inks also yielded numerous bacteria. In two instances Dr. Marmann succeeded in cultivating from nigrosin ink a bacillus which proved fatal to mice within four days. This ink had stood in an open bottle for three months, and the inference to be drawn from the inquiry is that ink used in schools should always be kept covered when not in use.

A Stout Backbone

Is as essential to physical health as to political consistency. For weakness of the back, rheumatism, and disorders of the kidneys, the tonic and diuretic action of Hoyer's Stomach Bitters is the one thing needed. The stomach is the mainstay of every other organ, and by invigorating the digestion with this preparation, the spinal column, and all its dependencies, are sympathetically strengthened. The drasytic and bilious will find it a pure vegetable stimulant and tonic.

It is much better to be crippled in limb than in soul.

J. S. Parker, Fredonia, N. Y., says: "Shall not call on you for the $100 reward, for I believe Hall's Catarrh Cure will cure any case of catarrh. Was very bad." Write him for particulars. Sold by druggists, 75c.

Brave Men

Alex McClure of the Philadelphia Times says: "The two boldest men he knows are John Wannamaker and John W. Haynes of Boston. Both went to New York. Mr. Wannamaker took the Stewart property, the finest dry goods store in the world, and Mr. Haynes took the great Broadway Central Hotel, the largest in the city. But dry rot had crept into both of these magnificent properties and no one dared to grasp them, until John Wannamaker took them and John Haynes the other. A complete and unequalled success has crowned the efforts of both. Verily a good reputation is better than riches."

ANIMAL GUNNING.

A Fox Came to Life After Being Killed, Bit Its Captor and Escaped.

Two cases are on record of foxes being discovered in hen-houses. In each case the fox not only completely deceived the funder, but allowed himself to be dragged out by the brush and thrown down. In each instance the fox then jumped up and ran away. Another example is that of a fox which allowed itself to be carried along a road for more than a mile. At last it bit the man and was promptly dropped. A cat was observed to carry a weasel home in its mouth, the weasel dangling helplessly. The door of the house was closed and the cat, in conformity with its usual habit, mewed to gain admission. To mew, however, it had to set down the weasel, which jumped up and fastened on its nose.

The following instance was observed by the late Professor Romanes: A corn-crake had been retrieved by a dog, and, having every appearance of being dead, was put in a man's pocket. Presently violent struggles were felt and the man drew the bird out. To his astonishment it again hinged in his hand limp and apparently lifeless. It was then set upon the ground and watched from behind some cover. In a short time it raised its head, looked around and decamped at full speed. A singular fact that must not be overlooked in connection with this phenomenon is that some animals have been found to be actually dead which were at first thought to be shamming. Romanes, for instance, found this to be the case with a squirrel which he had caught in a cloth and with which he wanted to experiment with regard to feigning of death.

Sir E. Tennent also relates, in his book on the "Natural History of Ceylon," that the wild elephant sometimes dies when being taken from the corral by tame elephants. Further, he relates a case in which, being convinced that an elephant was dead, he had its leashing taken off, and a friend leaning against it the while to rest. Hardly had they left it when it rose hurriedly, and trumpeting vociferously, rushed off in the jungle. The fact, however, that a squirrel or an elephant when captured unharmed will die is sufficient to show that a most powerful nervous derangement of some sort is induced.

When the late Joseph Thompson lectured on his African experiences he related how the first buffalo he shot tossed him, and how, when he came to himself and tried to sit up, he found his antagonist glaring at him a few yards away. He told how he recoiled at a buffalo does not try to touch a creature which shows no signs of life, and how he let his head sink slowly back, and lay shamming death. Phantasies, in flying across wide stretches of water, have been noticed suddenly to fall. In this way they are apparently drowned. It is perhaps dangerous to assert positively that fear is here the active cause of death; yet, we are apparently justified in believing that a paroxysm of fear can produce sudden death. The squirrel and the elephant may have died of fright; certainly death in man can be produced by sudden fear, and although man has a much more sensitive nervous mechanism, the lower animals have an extremely active instinct of fear.

Professor Lloyd Morgan mentions the case of a surfaceman working in the Severn tunnel who was nearly killed by a train. It is stated that "his attention was so riveted that he was unable to make, or rather he felt no desire to make, the appropriate movements;" that he could not help watching the train, but felt no terror. With the greatest difficulty he managed to shake himself free of his fascination. In describing his feelings when the danger was past he is reported to have said: "I came over all in a cold sweat and felt as helpless as a baby. I was frightened enough then." This may perhaps be taken as a cataleptic condition without fear.—Scotsman.

The Speed of Camels.

Extraordinary stories are sometimes told of the speed with which camels can travel in the desert, and of their wonderful endurance of fatigue. But according to recent statements there has been much exaggeration on this subject. One writer asserts that the speed of a camel does not exceed about seven miles and a half per hour, and that even that speed is not ordinarily maintained longer than two hours at a stretch.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF FAURE.

PRESIDENT OF FRENCH REPUBLIC HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

BOMB THROWERS WERE AFTER HIM.

Several Parties Are Arrested on Suspicion of Having a Hand in the Affair.

A special from Paris says: An attempt was made Sunday to assassinate Felix Faure, president of the French republic, while he was en route to Long Champs to witness the grand prix.

While M. Faure's carriage was passing a thicket near La Cascade restaurant near the Bois de Boulogne, a bomb, which subsequently proved to be a piece of tubing about six inches long and two inches in diameter, with a thickness of half an inch, charged with powder and swan shot, exploded. No one was injured by the explosion.

A man in the crowd, suspected as the prime mover, was arrested. He gave his name as Gallet and made only the briefest replies to questions put to him by the police. Gallet said that he had no occupation, but resided at Levallois-Perre.

The police are making a thorough search of his lodgings. He is believed to be insane, for he shouted at the carriage passed along so loudly as to attract general attention in the crowd. The police have made another arrest in the case—a youth—but it is thought probable that the actual culprit escaped in the thicket.

The news of the attempt spread like wildfire through the city, and when M. Faure returned to the Elysee the streets along the route where it was known he would drive were crowded with people who cheered vociferously.

It was at first reported that the would-be assassin was a young man, about twenty-five, who stood in the crowd a hundred yards or more from the race course and discharged a pistol at M. Faure as he drove up to the entrance; and there was another report that both pistol and bomb were used. But the police now believe the supposed pistol shot was merely the noise of the bomb.

The bomb was a clumsily made affair, to which a piece of fuse was attached, and the fuse was probably lighted by a paper fixed in the end of a stick as soon as the head of the procession came in view. The presumption is that the moment the fuse was lighted the culprit fled. In any case, the bomb could not have done much harm.

In the thicket where the police found the remnants of the bomb they also found a pistol, upon which were engraved the words, "Morta Felix Faure," and the names "Alsace-Lorraine" and "Cologne." Near the pistol was a small dagger bearing a similar threatening inscription, and a few feet away the police found a newspaper with a cartoon grossly insulting to the president. This contained an offensive inscription hinting at the execution of M. Faure.

The police made three arrests on suspicion of complicity in the bomb explosion, among them being two brothers, Gabriel and Laurin Gainer. They were closely questioned by M. Athalin, the examining magistrate, but as they gave satisfactory accounts of themselves and their movements, they were released about midnight. The attempt on the life of M. Faure was made on the very spot where Berezovsky tried to shoot the czar while driving to the military review at Long Champs in 1867, and where Fancois, a lunatic, last year fired his revolver at M. Faure on July 14.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

Nineteen Negroes Were Charged With the Murder of Jackson.

The sheriff of Georgetown, S. C., carried nineteen negroes there Saturday charged with the carving to death of Jackson on an adjacent island, when he attempted to kill their pastor.

They were arrested without any trouble, although while the tragedy was being enacted the negroes are said to have been in a religious frenzy. Sixteen were released on bond, the others committed for trial.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN SLAIN.
Negro Desperado in Mississippi Does Bloody Work With His Gun.
News has been received of the murder of five negroes in the extreme north-western portion of Kemper county, Miss., Sunday night.

A negro named Sibley, while drunk, secured a gun and started out to kill every person he met. He came across five negroes, three women and two children. He shot them down. He also shot at six other negroes, who narrowly escaped.

As soon as the bloody work of Sibley was discovered a mob was organized to lynch the murderer. Sibley took to the woods, carrying his gun with him.

A DEGREE FOR GROVER.

Princeton Will Probably Give Ex-President Cleveland a Title.

A dispatch from Princeton, N. J., says: In reference to the rumor that an honorary degree of LL.D. will be conferred upon Grover Cleveland, the university authorities are reticent in giving information and confirmation or denial cannot be obtained. It is the prevailing opinion among the professors and students that the report is true.

GLADSTONE IGNORED.

Official Programme of Queen's Jubilee Offends Liberals.

A London cablegram says: The official programme of the queen's jubilee procession as published has given umbrage to the liberals, owing to the utter absence of recognition of the civil and industrial side of the queen's reign.

The Daily Chronicle is very outspoken on the subject, especially at the omitting of Mr. Gladstone, and asks:

"What kind of a show is it that gives a prominent place to the soldiers of Emperor William and to the representatives of Turkish barbarism and excludes the greatest living English speaking statesman of the world?"

Continuing, The Chronicle remarks: "The Victoria era is conspicuous above all in the progress of labor and the steady growth of self government. Yet the working classes are ignored. A still more striking fact is that the presiding officers of the two houses of parliament are not recognized. The speaker's office is centuries old. He is the first commoner in England, presides over its most famous representative institution and is the figurehead of democratic government, yet he has no place in the procession. What will the colonials, who are wedded to pure democracy think of this?"

In conclusion, The Chronicle says: "If the crown has done something for the country, it is also true that the country has done much for the crown, for its own progress and for the general cause of human welfare."

INDIAN OUTLAWS IN LIMBO.

They Are Under Arrest and Will Be Tried For Murder.

The Indian office at Washington has received from Captain Stouch, of the Tongue river, Montana agency, a detailed report on the recent troubles there, arising from the murder of settler John Hoover by David Stanley, a Cheyenne brave.

After much diplomacy on the part of the agent, Stanley, with his two accomplices—Sam Crow and Yellow Hair—are now lodged in jail in Miles City, and will be tried by the civil courts.

Captain Stouch's description of the trouble is interesting in that it shows constant conflict between federal officers and the state authorities in the arrests of Indians. In this case the presence of the sheriff and a large posse came near causing a conflict with the Indians.

ALDRICH TO TAKE A REST.

The Senator's Physician Orders Him To Take a Vacation.

Senator Aldrich, republican member of the tariff bill committee, left Washington Saturday by order of his physician. He has been confined to his room at the Arlington almost all the time since the first week of the tariff debate with an aggravated attack indigestion with other complications.

He was able to be present at the first caucus on the sugar schedule and was taken with a relapse afterwards. As he did not improve, his physician directed that he should go where he would have absolute rest and be free from the possibility of any consultation with him on the tariff. The senator accordingly went to his Rhode Island home.

TO WATCH FOR FILIBUSTERS.

Treasury Department Sends Instructions To Patrol Fleet in Florida.

The treasury department has received, by reference from the secretary of state, a communication from the Spanish minister to the effect that he has information that an important filibustering expedition is being organized on the coast of Florida, and asks that steps be taken by the government to frustrate it.

The department communicated this information to all collectors and masters of the patrol fleet on the Florida coast with instructions to be on the alert to prevent the departure of any suspected expedition.

MILES IS HONORED.

He Will Ride Near Queen Vic in the Jubilee Parade.

A special to The New York World from London says:

General Miles, who recently came to Europe to witness the Greco-Turkish war as the representative of the United States army, is to ride mounted in the queen's jubilee parade in a position very near to the queen's carriage.

CHURCHES CALLED ON

To Devote Fourth of July Service to Cuban Cause.

The Cuban League of the United States has called upon the churches of the land to devote the principal service of Sunday, July 4th next, to the cause of God, liberty and humanity, as represented in the struggle of Cuba for independence, devoting the collection taken to the Cuban cause.

The league also requests that the public school teachers devote the last half day of the spring and summer session to the story of Cuba.

The league calls upon ex-patriotic societies of America to make the 4th of July, 1897, a "Memorial for Cuban freedom."

TURKS IGNORE ARMISTICE.

The Sultan Has Been Busy Mobilizing His Re-Enforcements.

A special dispatch from Athens to the Exchange Telegraph company reports that the armistice between Greece and Turkey has been broken by the Turks mobilizing re-enforcements, fortifying Volo and Preveza and sending troops to various islands. The dispatch reports that the Turkish fleet passed out through the Dardanelles Saturday night.

THE CURE OF DIABETES.

A Case Successfully Treated in Madison County, N. Y.

From the Press, Utica, N. Y.
On the recommendation of Mr. William Woodman, of South Hamilton, New York, that Mr. Amos Jaquays, a resident of Columbus Centre, New York, be interviewed regarding his extraordinary recovery from advanced kidney trouble, embracing diabetes in its worst form, Mr. Jaquays was visited and willingly made the accompanying statement:

"I am fifty years of age, and five years ago began to suffer with pains in the back and weakness in the region of the kidneys, and I had a tremendous flow of urine. Strange to say my appetite increased to an extraordinary degree, but instead of giving me strength my food seemed to make me weaker and thinner, and I was terribly constipated. My mouth was pasty, I had continuous heartburn and pain across the lower part of my stomach, and frequent vomiting. Indeed all or nearly all my functions became impaired, my sight was dim, memory deserted me, and life became irksome. I consulted the best medical talent in the county, and they all diagnosed my case as sugar diabetes in its most aggravated form, but gave me no relief whatever. At last I was in such a desperate condition that a course of physicians was called but their good offices did me no good, and I looked forward to death with satisfaction as the only relief I could expect."

"My old friend, William Woodman, about this time came to visit me, and from him I first heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which he declared had cured him of rheumatism, with which he had suffered all his life, and he believed they would do me good, as he had read of a cure of diabetes being cured by their use. I believe it was next day after Mr. Woodman's visit that Mr. F. Hyde, of South Hamilton, New York, called on me, and I was told by him that Pink Pills had saved his life, and he advised me by all means to try them."

"This settled the question and I at once began a course of home treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Within a week the medicine began to do its work, and constipation was relieved, my skin, which had been dry and hard, assumed its normal feel and appearance, I no longer had the insufferable bad taste in my mouth, and though still weak and almost helpless, pain in my back and kidneys began to abate, and the flow of urine decreased. But I was far from health, and built very few hopes on permanent cure, though I continued to take the pills conscientiously for the next year and a half, growing slowly but surely during that time better and better. Then I began to reduce the daily dose, and kept mending until six months ago, when I discontinued them, and I was entirely cured."

"I am still subject to cold which is apt to settle in my kidneys, and always keep Pink Pills by me, as they bring me round very quickly. In fact, I believe, in less than fifty boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and shall never be without them as long as I have half a dollar. I have recommended them to all my suffering friends, and they seem to be good for any disorder of the system as they have never failed to do their work in any case that I know of, and some were pretty low."

"I certify the above statement to be true in every particular, and if I commanded stronger language, I should use it in praising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"AMOS JAQUAYS."

Mr. Jaquays is a highly respectable and well-to-do farmer and builder, and highly connected in Madison County.

The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills state that they are not a patent medicine but a prescription used for many years by an eminent practitioner who produced the most wonderful results with them, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves, two fruitful causes of almost every ill to which flesh is heir. The pills are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, all forms of weakness, chronic constipation, bearing-down pains, etc., and in the case of men will give speedy relief and effect a permanent cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature. They are entirely harmless and can be given to weak and sickly children with the greatest good and without the slightest danger. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the dozen). Addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BICYCLE EXCITEMENT.

The greatest sensation of the season in the bicycle market has been occasioned by four of the leading manufacturers combining to protect the retail trade from being imposed upon by agents and others who have no reputation to lose, as bicycle dealers. This combination of which the John P. Lovell Arms Co. are the moving spirits, have forced down the price of high grade wheels so that there is now no reason why a cyclist should ride a cheap, unreliable, and unsafe bicycle. There is considerable opposition to this combination on the part of those who handle low grade wheels, but the public will be the winners, thanks to the Lovell Arms Co. A catalogue of our regular bicycle stock and a special list of wheels issued by the Big Four Combination mailed free on application.
